OVERVIEW

John Muratides is a Shareholder in the Litigation Department. Having practiced litigation exclusively since 1983, John has developed significant experience in a broad range of complex litigation practice areas. John has litigated in both state and federal courts and is admitted to practice in all federal district courts in the state of Florida. John's practice has been wide ranging, including complex disputes involving real estate, land development and property rights matters. He has represented developers, lenders, and property owners regarding development rights, construction litigation, lender liability defense, eminent domain, title and survey litigation, complex foreclosure litigation, commercial landlord-tenant disputes, covenant and easement disputes, and code enforcement litigation. He has also represented owners successfully challenging ad valorem tax assessments and denials of agricultural exemptions.

John's litigation experience also includes disputes involving business torts, creditors' rights, receiverships, premises liability, intellectual property rights litigation, products liability defense, and employment discrimination defense.

Prior to joining the Firm, John served as a law clerk for The Honorable Howell W. Melton, United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, 1981-1983.
